Loana announces her choice for the next State Director

Roy and Vivian Crouse

Roy and Loana will probably step down as State Directors after the 2015 Campvention in Wyoming. Bill and JoAnn Eckman will step down as assistant State Directors in a few months so the Crouse's can hold that position and work closely with Loana for a smooth transition in 2015. The final step is the Crouse's will have to be confirmed by the FCRV Trustees. More information about Roy & Vivian will be in future Embers.

Campvention 2015 and Complex in Gillette, Wyoming

At the general membership meeting at Statewide a YouTube video was shown highlighting the Complex facilities. Loana challenged everyone to make plans to attend. The dates are July 6 to 10, 2015. Also the field staff will be arm twisting fellow members to fill many volunteer positions that are needed for the 2015

Campvention hosted by Region 1. We have about 800 member families in Colorado FCRV, our goal is to have 400 attend Campvention 2015.

STAR GAZERS' CHAPTER NEWS

SUMMER BOONDOCKING FOR THE STAR GAZERS

Both July and August found the Star Gazers dry camping in some of the most beautiful locations that Colorado has to offer. In July, we camped at the group sites at Lakeview Campground at Twin Lakes, Colorado. Our host, Rick Hays, included a large number of his extended family in our weekend camping group which made for a really fun group. Many of us relaxed around the campground playing games and talking. Some drove to Aspen or Leadville to take in the sights there. We had a fun round of Bingo on Saturday night, and every person won multiple "valuable" prizes. We had 14 members, 4 cadet members and 12 guests in attendance. The group voted in 4 new members at their monthly meeting. We are happy to welcome Blake and Julie Bischoff and George and Linda Gonzales as the newest members of the Star Gazers.

August took us to another beautiful area east of the town of Jefferson in Pike National Forest. We camped in a large open meadow with gorgeous views to the east and west, and surrounded by forest. We had the whole meadow to ourselves, and were able to relax and let our many dogs run free. We had a fun hobo stew Friday night, where everyone brought vegetables to add to the large boiling pot of stew. On Saturday, many in the group went for a long hike. Others explored the historic towns of Jefferson and Como as well as visited Fairplay and South Park. Our hosts for this campout were Laurie Downs and Gordon and Nancy Elliott. We had 23 members and 1 guest in attendance.

CAMPFIRE COYOTES CHAPTER NEWS

The Campfire Coyotes retiree group took to the hills of the Gunnison National Forest and Curecanti Recreation Area in July. Many of us decided to stay in the very comfortable cabins at the Tall Timbers RV Resort at Gunnison rather than in our RV's, thus making our 4x4's available for some serious exploring.

All of us found the hiking, mountain driving trails, and fly fishing areas to be truly beautiful at this peak time for wildflowers. A planned group boat trip on Morrow Point Reservoir in the bottom of the Black Canyon of the Gunnison ran aground when one of the National Park Service's boat motors conked out, but we all made the 1-mile 232-stairstep trek down into the bottom (and back up) anyway, and then went to the main NPS area to peer into the 2700-foot-deep canyon, a truly different but equally impressive and beautiful type of "Grand Canyon".

The true spirit of our camping family --- and an additional and dramatic value of camping with a group of true (if new) friends --- became very evident when my truck's transmission decided it had pulled its last mile. It was so very helpful to have such a strongly supportive group waiting for me back at camp, ready to do anything - or every thing - they could to make this situation easier. For the Hagers to let me drive their tow vehicle to get my three guests back home (and to load up their motor home with all our bags and coolers) was truly awesome! I know they would have been just as helpful to any one of us, but it was all especially welcome to this single camper. To all of you, your empathy, suggestions, and help were such a blessing --- and are an absolute sure-fire reason for anyone, single or married, to JOIN a camping group!

Our next trip is to prison - specifically, the Wyoming Territorial Prison in Laramie, where the outlaws of the Old West were kept. It's as yet undetermined if they'll let us out again, but we've promised to be on our best behavior, especially since we have a large group planning to fly high at the Balloon Festival in Albuquerque in October.

TRAILBLAZERS CHAPTER NEWS

The Trailblazers are lovin' the summer! In June we headed over to Pagosa Springs and arrived just as the West Fork Fire was getting started. We camped at the Pagosa Riverside RV Resort which is at the foot of Wolf Creek Pass. The campground has a small lake and the San Juan River runs along the edge of the property. It was relaxing to sit by the river and watch people tubing and kayaking! A group of Trailblazers went into town and enjoyed some time at the hot springs. On the morning of our continental breakfast we invited a young man from South Korea to join us. He had stayed at the campground overnight. This young man was a software engineer taking a yearlong sabbatical to bicycle across the United States and Europe! Even though language was somewhat of a barrier, he knew some English and really appreciated the food and company, as did all of us! Another great campout came to an end. We all enjoyed delicious food and each other's friendship! From the campground we watched as the West Fork Fire grew ever larger! We were very fortunate that when our campout ended we were all able to get back over Wolf Creek Pass before the highway was closed due to the fire!

In July,

headed north to Golden Gate Canyon State Park. For many of us this was a new destination. One of our activities while at the park was an easy three mile hike into the historic Green Ranch. The Green Ranch is an undeveloped area that was acquired by the park due to the generosity of the Green family who wanted the land preserved rather than developed. The Green family ranched this property from 1917 until they retired in the early '70's. The only way to experience this beautiful area is by a guided tour. The guide for our walk was Dr. John Moyer, a retired pediatrician, who has been a volunteer with the park for twelve years. Dr. Moyer has extensive knowledge of the history of the Green Ranch. He is also familiar with the names of the many types of wildflowers that are abundant in the meadows that we walked through. During the walk we were rewarded with breathtaking views of the Front Range. This is a "must do" activity for any group camping at Golden Gate Canyon State Park. Just make sure you call early to arrange this excursion.

Not only did we hike, but also held a Bolo Golf Tournament. Winners of the Bolo Golf Tournament were Ken Harper and Jim Jurasek. The ladies later challenged the gentlemen to a game of Bean Bag Baseball. The ladies were tough, but the gentlemen managed to win! We won't talk about the score! Better luck next time, ladies!

The theme of our last night was patriotism. We held a flag ceremony around the campfire and sang patriotic songs--handily accompanied by Jim Jurasek on harmonica.

The time went by too quickly and before we knew it, it was time to say our good-byes to everyone. Our August campout will be at Taylor Park and September will find us in Grand Junction. Many of our members will be attending the Southern Colorado Retiree Rally in Colorado City. The last Trailblazer campout for the season will be in Howard, CO, in October.

A BIG thank you to our hosts and co-hosts, Larry and Sue Menke and Hank and Rose Stamps for a memorable campout!

Colorado Eagles Chapter News

Our May outing started with “Spring Fling”. As always it is a great time to get re-acquainted with people you only see at this time and join in the games and raffles as well as finding neat items to purchase. The 3 days really went fast and it is time to say goodbye to new and old friends.

As we left “Spring Fling” and headed toward our first stop in North Platte, Nebraska, all eyes were on the sky. It was raining all around us in the distance and we felt fortunate that we were not driving through it. That false sense of security lasted for only a short time as we caught up with the wind and rain and it stayed with us for quite a while. The prospect of setting up in the rain was not a great thought; but the sun did come out before we arrived at the Holiday RV Park. Dinner that night was at Whiskey Creek not far from the Park. The rain came back and did so off and on most of the night.

Monday we left the Park and headed for the Golden Spike Tower. If you have never been there it is an 8 floor tower that overlooks the “classification yard” of the Union Pacific. It is the largest classification yard in the United States. There are lots of pictures in the tower with information about what you are seeing and also volunteers to answer your questions. It was very interesting but for some of us there just wasn’t enough time to see and read all the information as we had lunch reservations. After lunch there was the Lincoln County Historical Museum and/or Dairy Queen for anyone interested.

Tuesday we started for Minden for our stay at the Pioneer Village and RV Park. The Pioneer Village consists of a wonderful collection of carriages, carts, cars, farm tractors and implements, and buildings that were moved onto the property from surrounding areas that had an impact on the growth of the area and state. There is even an old carousel and a school house with the books that were used by the students of the time. If you go there, allow yourself 2 to 3 days to see everything unless you are a fast reader and walker. It is amazing all the things that are in the buildings and at times they have people there showing how brooms were made and rugs woven. The campground is also old, very few full hook-ups, the rest have water and electric and there is a shower building. At 4:00 we had a wonderful tour of the Opera House in downtown Minden. It has been restored and they did an amazing job. While in town we found a great place to eat just across the street from the Opera House called the Cornerstone Café. It was once a store that sold men’s and women’s clothing, shoes, hats, umbrellas; each had their own side of the building.

Wednesday was basically a free day with most of us going back to Pioneer Village to pick up where we left off our exploring from the previous day.

Thursday we went to the Great Platte River Archway; lots of us had driven under it at one time or another but not stopped to go inside. It is a wonderful history of the area and it was the crossroads of the westward migration. After lunch at Dickey’s BBQ on the main floor we left for the Nebraska Firefighters Museum just a few blocks away. It was amazing to see some of the old equipment and clothing that was used. Some people went on to the MONA Museum of Nebraska Art and to see the Classic Car Collection and/or the store of Cookbooks by Morris (yes, a store of cookbooks).

Friday was the Trails and Rails Museum. The guide had lots of great information about the building that had been moved onto the property that depicted what life was like for the people of the era and the railroad travelers. There were two houses there, one showing how the wealthy lived and the other of an average family. There were a total of 7 buildings full of items and history. After a busy day everyone met at the Cornerstone Café for dinner again. Great food and very good service.

Saturday was Fort Kearney State Historical Park and a camp set up to show how soldiers lived while in the field; also there were 5 different cannons there that they talked about what they were used for (distance they shot or were moveable on the battlefield) and they gave a demonstration of how loud each one sounded. There was also a stockade and a powder magazine, barn and blacksmith shop. In the main entrance area there was also a short video telling about the area. Dinner that night was at Burchell’s White Hill Farmhouse. It was an old barn that has been completely redone with 2 walls of windows looking out on plowed fields on one side and a pond on the other with an old pickup truck sitting by a large tree. The other walls are hung with quilts and quilted pictures giving it a charming atmosphere. Oh yes, the food was great too.

Sunday was breaking camp with some going home and some heading to other destinations.

Thank you Ann and Carter for a wonderfully planned trip and great places to visit!

GRAY WOLVES CHAPTER NEWS

The Retiree Rally at the beautiful Lakeside KOA in Ft Collins was another good one. It was a nice mix of leisure time versus planned activities. One of the highlights was when we all gathered together at a shady area in the park and learned how to watch the sun safely. The session was led by the very entertaining Astronomy Professor from CU, Jim Moravec, who really kept our attention as we learned about the sun and how its activities affect the weather on earth. Leisure activities included a trip to the Budweiser Brewery to see the magnificent Clydesdales. Another highlight was the animal sculptures at the Swetsville Zoo that were made out of old farm equipment and auto parts. The sculptor must have had quite a wild sense of humor as he came up some mighty interesting whimsical names.

July found the Gray Wolves just south of Buena Vista at the Chalk Creek Campground. There were lots of shade trees, plus many of the sites were right next to the water, a perfect location to enjoy our Colorado summer days. On one of our morning walks, we discovered an old school, built in 1880. On the door were written instructions from long ago on how it was to be built. It gave the desired dimensions, described the bell tower, specified that it was to be painted green and white, AND the two 'water closets' were to have adequate ventilation!

Members of the Gray Wolves are still having fun planning the Southern Retiree Rally. Those attending the Rally will be treated to a special performance by our very own stars of stage, video, and camp-outs. Be prepared to cheer (or jeer) during this sterling performance as Judge Ima Crook and prosecutor Nail-em Good and others take center stage.

Silver Foxes Spring campout at Cheyenne Mountain State Park April 21-26, 2013

Sunday, The Host and Co-Host Ed & Marie along with Billy & Liesa arrived at Cheyenne Mountain State Park. A beautiful day for a walk, some light wind and relaxing in the warm sun.

Monday morning was great weather till noon then the wind picked up. The wind gust was up to 40 mph and steady at 25 mph two more Foxes arrived then the 8 of us got together in Gary & Pat's Rig for a short social, turning cold outside....

Tuesday morning some folks didn't have a dribble of water from their inside water, soooooo some frozen hoses. Also, it started to snow and by evening to about 8 inches. Wow, wasn't like this last year. We all kept our heaters going to keep warm, wind still blowing.

Wednesday the snow melted and was a great day for two more rigs to pull in, just in time to set up for our annual stone soup luncheon (17 more members joined us for a total of 25 for soup) that night it was too cold outside so we took our evening social inside Scotty & Peggy's camper. It broke up about 9-9:30.

Thursday about noon, three more Foxes came up for a visit. Two couples took a little visit to Ft Carson and when they returned, they joined us for an unscheduled social. Everyone sheltered around a camper from the sun and wind until dinner time. At Dinner, all campers met at the Carlos Miguel's Mexican Grill.

Friday morning breakfast get together, with all campers, again it was too cold outside, so we went inside Scotty & Peggy's camper. All 10 of us had a lot warmer breakfast than if we had stayed outside. After breakfast, we split up and packed up. Oh, one more thing. When Gary went to pack up and pull his slides in, one of them didn't want to co-operate. In typical Silver Foxes fashion, we all rallied together and got it closed so he could head home. We work well as a team and had a lot of fun.

Another spring warm up or cool down?

Santa Fe Camping Trip for the Silver Foxes of Colorado Springs Sunday May 19 to May 27

Six families left Colorado Springs to get ahead start for our adventure, they were Scotty & Peggy Scott, Marv & Edith Kramer, Ken & Rita Martinez, Billy & Liesa Moore, Bruce & Marjorie Hetzel, Lynn & Marion Waterhouse. They stayed at the KOA in Raton New Mexico. We had a nice dinner at K-Bob's.

Monday was arrival day at The Trailer Ranch Resort. We were all welcomed by our camp host & hostess Ken & Rita Martinez. After everyone was settled, Ken & Rita had a welcome get together at the club house. All 12 rigs were present & enjoyed great snacks furnished by our hosts.

Tuesday, the bus drivers will not be the same here after they transported most of the Foxes into the Plaza. We visited the Basilica of St. Francis. Some did some shopping, while others just window shopped. Lunch was outstanding at the Blue Corn. A couple of men went golfing, while their wives went to the casino. (NO LUCK) Again, the bus driver was treated to our presence coming back to the camp ground. We all gathered at Scotty & Peggy's camper for an afternoon relaxing out in the sun (great weather).

Wednesday, Road Trip (what a fabulous day, thanks to our hosts, who knew all the great places to see. Our first stop El Santuario de Chimayo (a small Church dating back to the 1800. In 1810 Bernardo Abeyta found the crucifix of Our Lord of Esquipulas in a well. The dirt in the well is known as holy dirt. Many healings have taken place there. Some took some home with us. The next stop was a delicious lunch at Rancho de Chimayo, where they served native Mexican cuisine. Whoa!!! We are not finished yet. Next stop was La Chiripada winery & vineyard for wine tasting. Some could not resist on purchasing a few bottles to take home. Our last stop was Ortega's Weaving shop. We were able to watch a weaver making a rug, a 300 year tradition. We were all exhausted when we got back, but what a day.

Thursday was our first do what you want day. In the evening, it started to be a cook out for 2 couples, then it was 3, and then (Guess who is coming to dinner?) and before we knew it, all 12 couples were there. What a great group.

Friday We went on another road trip on the Turquoise Trail, stopping in an old mine town of Cerrillos, then on to Madrid, where the movie Wild Hog was made. Some enjoyed an ice cream break, while some went shopping.

Saturday was a do your own thing day. Some departed and headed back home, while others did the Plaza, Flea Market or just plain relaxed.

Sunday our group of 12 is now down to 4. The afternoon was relaxing in the sun and enjoying the beautiful weather. We were treated by a French waiter garbed with white towel and silver tray with ice cream cups, by no other than Jack with the help of Freda. A few people had allergy problems, but that did not stop them.

Monday was farewell day to a wonderful campout. Thank you Ken & Rita for the job of planning this trip.

Salida, 4 Seasons Campground June 17th to the 24th

This year's Salida campout was a fun time for all. Monday, June 17th was the start of a weeklong camp out for 10 rigs and 2 members staying in a cabin. Salida offers many different opportunities for everyone, including golfing, hiking, sight-seeing's, shopping, swimming and fishing. Daily activities were mostly left up to individuals taste. Three dinning outs, at local restaurants, were scheduled to include one breakfast, one lunch and one linner, (later than lunch-earlier than dinner). Almost everyone was able to attend and between great service, great food and even better company, everyone had a wonderful time. On Wednesday, the campout hosts, Scotty and Peggy, held their annual fish fry for the group. Two couples even drove in from Colorado Springs to attend. Everyone helped out with side dishes and deserts. Each night, activities were held in the rec hall. Evening activity highlights included the guys beating the girls at "Battle of the Sexes", the card game of "BS", Silly Olympics, punch out bingo, and Colorado Trivia. Thank you to Ed & Maria for donating prizes for the Card Bingo. Daily spontaneous gatherings at different campsites made for fun times. Except for the smoke from forest fires, the weather was great.

Outdoor Buddies Time.....

It was a beautiful day in May (the 18th) and we were about to experience something even more rewarding. We spent the day at the beautiful Painted View Ranch in Westcliffe, CO. This was the annual Outdoor Buddies Family Day. The Outdoor Buddies program supports Wounded Warriors, youth and women. The picnic was attended by approximately 300 "guests." They had a variety of demonstrations, including the wild wolf, alpacas and horses. Ft. Carson was also in attendance and provided several displays too. They also had a bow & arrow shooting range set up. We (Fire Ant Dancer and Snake Shot) also put out a display. We were lucky enough to have two large tables full of Mountain Man goodies. We were kept busy the whole day with lots of questions and comments, and gave out lots of flyers and club applications for those who were interested. We even had a few who were going to go out and get a muzzleloader! At the end of the day, everyone commented on what a great exhibit we had and how they wanted to learn more. And learn more they did.....

On June 22nd, we were joined by Joy, Doug, Steve S., Tom, Gwen & Tim and Todd & Blake at Tarryall Reservoir. Some of us actually went up a few days earlier and got in some fishing. We camped at the lake and around 10 am, we crossed the road to the Outdoor Buddies cabin. The OB President, Larry Sanford and his wife Penny were our hosts. We had a 25 ft. range set up, hawk and knife, and fire starting table. Several of the "guys" were in wheelchairs, but nothing could stop them from trying everything. What a remarkable group of people. We didn't have a lot (about 8 guys came) but they are sure to spread the word about what a great time they had. They even talked about going out and getting a muzzleloader now that they know how much fun they are. Larry wanted us to convey to our group how much they appreciated all that we did and he's looking forward to a bigger one next year. OB even provided lunch for us all! Can't begin to tell you all what a rewarding experience it was and how amazing everyone was. A big thanks go out to all our volunteers...we couldn't have done it without you.

If anyone is interested in spending some time with this group, they do some amazing things. They have a family day fishing at Swift's Pond, a golf tournament, antelope hunt, and lots of fun things throughout the year. Can't begin to tell you how rewarding it is! Let us know and thanks again to all our volunteers....

Legistature Issues

Sep - Oct 13

As you know - The LEGISLATURE IS NOT IN SESSION BUT ARE IN THE BACK ROOMS OF THE CAPITOL PLANNING SURPRISES FOR US COME JANUARY. NOW IS A GOOD TIME TO GET OUT AND SEE AND DO SOMETHING DIFFERENT WHILE IT IS COOL AND BEFORE THE SNOW FLIES.

Telluride's Via Ferrata

Your knuckles are white. There's 300 feet of air between the your toes and the valley floor, and nothing for your hands and feet but a series of metal rungs drilled into the cliff face. You have every reason to be scared - but you're safe...ish.

You're on Telluride's Via Ferrata - a series of rungs, ledges, and cables that tours the cliffs above the mountain town for more than a mile. The route is as wide as ten feet in places, but much of it is on narrow ledges or iron "ladders" hammered into the cliff face.

A steel cable is bolted along most of the route, providing a safety line for harnessed climbers. Many travelers choose to travel shorter sections of the route, as a full traverse can take as many as six hours (including a one-hour hike back to the parking lot).

Specialized equipment is recommended for Via Ferrata travelers, and is available for rental at San Juan Mountain Guides in nearby Ouray. Generally considered the region's best mountain outfitter, San Juan Mountain Guides also offers guided tours of the route through the fall.

Getting there: From Telluride, leave town headed east on Colorado Avenue, and follow this for almost two miles to the base of Bridal Veil Falls. In a high-clearance vehicle (most SUVs will work fine), follow the dirt road up two switchbacks to a small dirt parking lot. From here, the route can be reached by an obvious trail in 15 minutes or less.

The 1,500-foot race

For the Type A personality, few things in life are truly enjoyable. These folks don't stop to smell the flowers - they are only capable of happiness when testing their bodies against the mountains or crushing their competition underfoot.

And this week, at long last, we've got something for them. On Sept. 7, the town of Frisco will host the Mt. Royal Hillclimb: a two-mile footrace that will pit runners against 1,500 vertical feet of climbing on singletrack trail.

Cross over to Delta County

Life is better on the other side - of the Continental Divide, that is. Nestled at the base of the Colorado's Grand Mesa, Delta County has emerged as one of the state's true hidden gems.

Delta County is an agrarian paradise. The region's many fruit trees are in full bloom during the spring, and the county's 12 wineries produce some of the state's best wine year round.

And with 300 days of sunshine, Delta County is an all-too-often overlooked playground for outdoor enthusiasts. The Grand Mesa is a draw for birders and hikers alike, and the nearby Black Canyon of the Gunnison is one of Colorado's true treasures.

Experience Our Side of the Divide

The race starts in downtown Frisco, and ends at the summit of the 10,500-foot Mt. Royal. The terrain is steep, and climbs from start to finish. It's a quad-busting, lung-burning endeavor - and the winners are rightly dubbed "King and Queen of the Mountain".

Registration costs just $35 for adults, and $25 for entrants younger than 17. Entry comes with a long-sleeve shirt and a free post-race breakfast in town. Along with bragging rights, of course. Registration is open online until race day (when the cost goes up $5).

Bonus points: After the race, tackle Mt. Royal the hard way - by climbing the moderate eight-pitch Royal Flush route up the peak's technical north face. Send photo proof that you've accomplished both, and we'll hook you up with something special.

Climb the classics

Not everyone is a rock climber (nobody's perfect). But no one should go to their grave without topping out at least one big climb. And thanks to some world-class local guides, no one has to. Read on for three of Colorado's classic guided climbs.

The Third Flatiron

The climb: It's not uncommon to see locals scaling Boulder's 1,300-foot Third Flatiron without ropes. The climbing is relatively easy (the standard route was once climbed in roller skates), and the views from the summit are unmatched. That said - most folks bring a rope and some traditional climbing gear.

The guide: For climbers with some multi-pitch experience, the Colorado Mountain School offers trips up the Third Flatiron for $150. For folks without said experience, they add a two-hour, $75 primer course.

The beta: The Third Flatiron is in Boulder's Chataqua Park, which is free to use, but fills up on the weekend. The formation is closed for raptor nesting until mid-summer, and climbers should bring two ropes for the rappel descent. And check the weather -- many parties have been caught on the face in afternoon thunderstorms.

Pedal the Plains

You already know Ride the Rockies - the classic Colorado cycling tour that has a gajillion-person waitlist every year. But what about its more accessible eastern cousin, Pedal the Plains?

From Sept. 20-22, The 2nd Annual Denver Post Pedal the Plains Bicycle Tour, will give cyclists a taste of the wide-open spaces, star-filled nights, and open-armed hospitality of Southeastern Colorado.

Registration is now open for the three-day tour, the Century Ride, and the Family Fun Ride.

That's it for this time.

We'll See You Down The Road!

DISCOUNTS NOT AVAILABLE ON HOLIDAYS

It's all about having FUN!!

From Interstate 25

Take exit 269 B and head west on Colorado Highway 14 into Fort Collins. Follow the signs to U.S. Highway 287 north (about ten minutes). Take 287 north until you get to the northern edge of Fort Collins (about ten more minutes). Shortly thereafter, 287 will split off to the right to go to Laramie. Do not follow 287 at this point. Rather, continue straight into the town of Laporte. The second stoplight after this split will be Taft Hill Road (CR 19). Turn left onto Taft Hill Road (CR 19). Now get into the very first left-hand turning lane that you come to, which is about 1/2 mile down Taft Hill Road (CR 19). Turn left onto Lakeside Resort Lane and follow the concrete driveway straight through the gate.

2013 Chapter Awards

OUTSTANDING COLORADO CHAPTERS OF THE YEAR AWARD

STAR GAZERS

In appreciation of their interest displayed in all the activities of Colorado FCRV and being such great supporters of everything we do at our state campouts.

The Star Gazers chapter has been such a great supporter of all of our activities since they were chartered in 2004. They work every RV show and even come to the show when they are not scheduled and bring snacks and handouts for people to take. They consistently submit a chapter news story with pictures for every Embers newsletter to tell us about their camping activities, and their campouts are always full of fun things to do. They have had several movie nights on Friday night after the dinner and will hand out lots of goodies for that. For the past several state campouts, they have brought the staff a basket full of good healthy fruits and snacks, which keeps us going and nourished at all times. They collect nearly all of the items that are put into the "Goodie Bags" at Spring Fling each year and they spend a weekend stuffing those bags and deliver them to Brush on Thursday evening. They also take care of the doggie poop buckets that are placed in the campground at Spring Fling and Statewide. They have helped with Security at both campouts as well for several years. I can't thank them enough for all they do for me and the staff at state campouts and are always there to help when something needs to be done.

STAR CHASERS

Their outstanding efforts of giving back to their community and their generous donations to several charitable organizations, and coordinating the bolo horseshoes again this year at Spring Fling. They also did the registration and parking again this year at Statewide.

Every year, several of the members will donate several hours to working the booth at both Denver RV shows. They have always supported the state by attending every Spring Fling and Statewide, plus their interest displayed in all the activities of Colorado FCRV

The chapter donated a $100 check to the Alzheimer's Association on behalf of one of their members whose husband has Alzheimers. They donated $64 to Lakeside KOA in Ft. Collins for the KOA Care Camps for children who have cancer. Money was collected from fees to play miniature golf at the KOA during their monthly campout. 32 members participated in the charity game.

FCRV Colorado Statewide – Worked Registration for camper check-in for the event on Friday and Saturday – Total number of members working was 8. The members came the night before the event started so they could be ready to work registration early the next morning.

They delivered 147 Halloween treat bags to the Children's Hospital in Denver Colorado – Annual charity event done every year since 2004. Entire chapter participated, most donating 6 -7 bags per couple.

They delivered 12 boxes of non-perishable food items and a check for $200 to the Salvation Army food bank located in Centennial Colorado – Annual charity event done every year since 2004. The $200 check was part of the 50/50 raffle funds collected throughout 2012.

A $200 check was given to the Denver Rescue Mission. The $200 check was also part of the 50/50 raffle funds collected throughout 2012.

Throughout the year of 2012, 800 lbs of clothing was collected and donated to the Samaritan House and the Jeffco Action Center in Denver Colorado. Entire chapter contributed to this effort.

Throughout the year of 2012, 24 boxes of toiletries and snacks care packaged were sent to the troops in Afghanistan. Entire chapter contributed to this effort.

In summary, I would like to say that the members of the Star Chasers Chapter is active in supporting FCRV through helping their programs by volunteering their time at events and also through Community Service. When performing community service, Star Chaser members wear their chapter shirts and promote the organization of FCRV. It is their hope that by doing this they are helping to get the word out about this great camping organization. The Star Chasers Chapter of FCRV is made up of fun-loving and generous people who enjoy the benefits that FCRV offers them and who have a heart that wants to share this with other people who may not have heard of FCRV before. It is their hope to continue in these efforts so that FCRV can remain strong and grow during the year of 2013.

How grandparents can help grandchildren with college costs

As the cost of a college education continues to soar, many grandparents are stepping up to help. Over half of today's grandparents contribute – or plan on contributing – to their grandchildren's college education, according to the Financial Research Corporation. And this trend is predicted to accelerate in the upcoming years.

If you're a grandparent, helping to pay for your grandchild's college education can bring great personal satisfaction. It's also a smart way to pass on your wealth without having to pay gift and estate taxes. Here are some ways to accomplish this goal.

Outright cash gifts. You could give your grandchild cash or securities. But this method has drawbacks. A gift of over the annual federal gift tax exclusion amount – $13,000 for individual gifts and $26,000 for gifts made by a married couple – triggers taxes.

Another drawback: cash gifts to a student are considered untaxed income by the federal government, which can impact your grandchild's financial aid eligibility. One workaround: wait until your grandchild graduates. Then give cash that the graduate can use to pay off school loans.

Pay tuition directly to the college. Under federal law, tuition payments made directly to a college aren't considered taxable gifts, no matter how large the payment. But payments can only be made for tuition – room and board, and similar expenses don't qualify. Yet you still are free to give your grandchild a separate tax-free gift each year up to the $13,000 limit ($26,000 for joint gifts).

One drawback: colleges often reduce a student's financial aid by the amount of the grandparent's payment. So before sending a check, ask the college how it will affect your grandchild's eligibility for college-based aid. If your contribution will adversely affect your grandchild's aid package, consider gifting the money after graduation to help the graduate pay off student loans.

529 plans. Contributions to a 529 plan grow tax deferred, and withdrawals used for the beneficiary's qualified education expenses are completely tax free at the federal level (and generally at the state level, too).

Coverdell ESAs. This investment enables you to contribute to your grandchild's qualified college expenses and for qualified private elementary or secondary school expenses. You can contribute up to $2,000 per beneficiary each year. The money is tax deferred and is tax free at the federal and state level. However, there are income limits: married couples with a modified adjusted gross income over $220,000 ($110,000 for individuals) can't contribute.
